

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system for distributing digital contents over electronic network, the system includes: one or more management PCs configured to collect the digital contents and upload the collected digital contents to FTP servers;
5 and one or more edge servers configured to download the digital contents in advance from the FTP servers according to instructions from the management PC and deliver the downloaded digital contents to user terminals located in the same network
10 as the edge server according to request from the user terminal.